Design: Instant Raised Beds

In the right place, for the right client (likely one with a small or patio garden), these new raised beds might be the perfect solution. Made from recycled metal, the corner braces -- called M braces -- allow you to slip boards up to 12 feet long into them.

So if you can use any length board with them, they are certainly versatile, and what's more, if you change your mind you can move them around ... or take them with you when you move. You could even do a small herb (or veg) garden, and maybe the carrot brace, below, would be just right for that.

See the full line of braces at www.artofthegarden.net
If you don't feel like fooling around constructing raised beds of your own, do it the easy way.
